Name: Kendra Lay

Email Address: kendra@kendralay.com

Business or Organization Name: Be Well Family Acupuncture

Address: 6871 Belfort Oaks Pl

Phone Number: 904-990-3228

Title or Position Available: Acupuncture Associate

Job Description or practice description: Seeking Acupuncture Physician in Jacksonville, Florida

Highlights of the Position

Busy and Growing Acupuncture Practice: Seeking a Florida licensed Acupuncture Physician with one year or more experience. You also need to have professional liability insurance.

Our Values: heart, transparency, professionalism, kindness and open communication are all explicit values upon which we base our work environment
Integrative East-West Medical Setting: Acupuncture office is located in a busy women's health/obstetrics and gynecology clinic. You will share an office with doctors, midwives and doulas. Excellent opportunity, especially for a practitioner interested in women's health and fertility.

Compensation: Competitive and generous compensation. We want to encourage you to grow a practice with us for the long-term, and in exchange we want to make this a job you want to stay in and thrive.

Excellent Central Jacksonville Location: Located near the intersection of I-95 and Butler, the office is near many medical facilities. Many professionals work nearby and the central location allows people from all over the metro area to visit the clinic.

Who We're Looking For:

Excellent bedside manner: your verbal interactions with patients should be as therapeutic as your treatments.

Skilled communicator: with both patients and fellow staff members. You can field a range of personality types – including the occasional difficult one – while maintaining a pleasant demeanor and a focus on positive outcomes.

Strong work ethic and pride in your work.

Sensitive and empathetic.

An interest in committing to the clinic for at least a couple of years. Or longer! :)

Self-care savvy: as you surely know, any healer is in danger of burning out if they are not proactive with their self care.

Interested in marketing and proper business communication: you understand that to heal patients, we first have to get them in the door. You are willing to participate in marketing efforts about once a month (some months may be more or less depending on the availability) in order to get the word out about acupuncture. You are also willing to learn best business practices to grow your clientele and get the best results with your patients.

Pleasant and professional demeanor towards all staff who share the office — you come from the heart, not from the ego. No drama.

Creative, helpful, roll-up-your-sleeves attitude: our clinic has a “start-up” feel to it. As we grow, we need all staff members to contribute their creative suggestions for improvement and be willing to pitch in with one-off non-routine tasks as needed. Our clinic takes insurance, so ideally you’d have some experience with insurance billing, and/or be willing to learn.

You feel comfortable talking about the benefits of acupuncture from a western medical point of view, it’s okay to explain qi and blood and yin and yang too, but you like to relate to patients first on a level they can readily understand.

Acupuncture / Chinese Herbology Skills

it is important that you feel happy and comfortable treating patients who come in with:

- symptoms and health concerns present in pregnancy
- women's health and fertility issues
- musculoskeletal pain,
- stress/anxiety/depression

Styles of Acupuncture

We are open to different styles and approaches to healing with acupuncture. We are a TCM clinic and practice TCM but we understand practitioners have different skills and interests.

Collaboration

You see the value in discussing and sharing clinical approaches, and appreciate the breadth and depth of knowledge available to you as part of a group practice. You thrive on a spirit of collaboration.

Roles and Responsibilities

Your main responsibilities as an acupuncturist at our clinic will be:

- Being an excellent clinician

- Timely documentation of chart notes

- Checking patients out and rescheduling patients

- Attendance and active participation at monthly regular staff meetings

- Maintaining a sense of ownership regarding the clinic's success and providing continuous feedback on the clinical, HR and operational aspects of the clinic to the owner

Help managing daily and weekly operations of the clinic such as daily tidying, collecting laundry to be washed and putting supplies away

Date needed: July 2018
