Associate Acupuncturist

JOB DESCRIPTION OR PRACTICE DESCRIPTION:

Full Time or Part Time Associate Acupuncturist

We are seeking a dynamic team player who is looking for a professional place to enjoy your craft.

Who are you?

You are passionate about Chinese Medicine and helping people feel better and having a collaborative relationship with patients, meeting them where they are in their health journey. You're into collaborative healing with patients, and good communication with your office team. You want to be supported while you flow in your zone of genius: providing excellent care to patients. You are an emotionally mature professional who sees the value of working with a team rather than running your own show and all the details which that entails.

In short, you are an effective professional. You love Chinese Medicine. You enjoy connecting with people and don't find it "draining." You aren't interested in having or starting your own practice now, or in five to ten years. You like having someone else run the business side of things! You genuinely enjoy this work.

You have graduated from an accredited school with an MSTOM or DCAOM, and can easily become licensed to practice acupuncture in Vermont. Ideally, you are bright and pick things up quickly!

Who are we?

We are a busy, established practice in the heart of the Green Mountains (Rutland Vermont). We've got excellent community standing due to our deep commitment to patient care and results. We have a healthy team Qi dynamic and work together to continue that flow by practicing specific skills together to keep the providers, staff and in turn the patients healthy. We are a group of professionals that are committed to creating a deeply nourishing space for our patients. Due to the location of the practice, we often are the first experience with acupuncture and eastern medicine so educating and setting clear expectations with patients are a must! We practice TCM and use the full range of modalities including acupuncture, herbal medicine, lifestyle recommendations including nutrition and movement.

Our clinic flow is intentional and focused, seeing 2-3 people per hour, and train you on systems so that you can give great treatments. This position does require some meeting times (about 1-1.5 hours a week), and the willingness to be coached in specific areas. We are looking for someone who understands that this is a really great opportunity and is willing to show up and do the work in exchange for:
